The Study Diary

Published in Canada
Printed in USA

Dear Diary,

Last night, I had 'the dream' again. It seems to haunt me. Every night I find myself standing atop a mountain surrounded by screaming girls. What does this mean? I'm transported back into time to what seems to be a school on the French Riviera. I've never been to the French Riviera! However, my adventure doesn't stop there. People swirl around me in strange costumes, and karaoke music blares in the background. The next part overwhelms me. Strange writing appears out of nowhere but I seem to understand it. Now that I think about it . . . I believe that it is Chinese. (Probably a leftover from the Chinese food I ate last night . . .) I wake up, thinking that I've come back to the 'real world' but find myself back atop the mountain with those screaming girls. Maybe I'm stuck between life and sleep, or maybe it's just the stress of final exams. I'll keep you informed, Diary.

Just Jen

Founder's Day

Our honoured guest at this year's Founder's Day was an alumna who shared her humourous memories with the whole school.

Miss Whitley shared her recollection of being a student during the "Roaring 20s", when she and her friends defied the school's strict uniform rules "by clasping our coats tight around our hips and leaving our boots opened so that they flapped when we walked - hence the word 'flappers'."

On March 12th The Study started out on their very first school trip to China with 29 students, three teachers and Mr. Wang, father of Study student Linda Wang. The trip was not only informative but the students also had a lot of fun. During the two week visit, they were able to see many historical sites, learning about the Chinese culture and its rich history. They also shopped, visited schools and even had a basketball tournament with a school in Suzhou. Many thanks to all the tour guides, Mme Hébert, Mme Jothy, Ms. Swiderski and Mr. Wang for accompanying the students on their trip and making it so memorable.

Dear Diary,

The dreams...I have them all the time now, not only at night, but also in the middle of the day. Today was one of the worst. For a whole period of trigonometry, I was staring at the wall, dreaming of sports. Soccer, volleyball, basketball, badminton, track and field, football, tennis–they all melted together in some sort of bizarre combination. I think I'm going crazy! When I close my eyes, all I can see are badminton birdies and when I open them, I see volleyballs. I've got to tell someone about this. Maybe I have secret powers? Diary, wouldn't that be incredible?

Catch you later.

Soccer

The Juvenile team this year was made up of seventeen keen, aggressive, ball hungry soccer players with an obvious love of the game! The team participated in the GMAA Division 3 league against Villa Maria (French), Centennial Academy, and ECS. After finishing second behind Villa Maria in the regular season, the team travelled to Howard S. Billings High School in Chateauguay to play in the first round of the playoffs. Not only did we lose the game, we also lost a player as Jessica Potenza broke her tibia while going for the ball simultaneously with an opponent....Ouch!

Nonetheless, we did attend two tournaments: the Stanstead Senior Girls Invitational Tournament, and the CAIS Senior Girls Soccer Tourney held at Country Day School. It was there that we made Study history as we broke into the top 8 group of teams who played it out for the Championship for the very first time! Although we finished in 7th place overall, the team managed to do this with a roster of only 11 players. Well done!

Many thanks to Coach Adrian Bertrand, and to team captains Alexa Barwick and Zoë Lavender for their leadership and spirit.

Volleyball

Midget Volleyall
Coach: Ms. Patricia Innes
Diana Heckler, Monica Chan, Jessica Li On Wing, Carol Taing, Sherman Hung, Keenan Goddard-Donovan (Capt.), Kristina Gregory, Tanya Wong, Véronique Lapalme, Carmit Tzoubari, Cynthia Qian

The Midget volleyball team had a great season this year. We came in third overall which isn't that bad considering half the team is Bantam age. We'll never forget our trip to Halifax and our amazing result. We came in third! Our memories of Halifax will be with us every time we touch a volleyball. Thanks to Trish for helping us lead the way to the championship game and always encouraging us and all the midget players for a great season of fun!

Juvenile Volleyball
Coach: Ms. Nicole Carrière
Manna Chan, Karen Bosnakyan, Anne Hospod, Jade Gazaille, Jennifer Patterson, Angie Ip, Natalie Smith, Allison Yung, Elizabeth Richards-Dumas

This year was great! So maybe we didn't win any fancy banners but we had a great time playing the game. We "refined" our skills and had a blast in the process. It should be said that some of us have been together for 3 years and we'll all be sad to see our incredible Sec. 5 go. But we'll always have the memories. Halifax 2000-2001, 21 hour train trips, adjoining rooms, shopping for fruit, late night visits with Mme Carrière, and Midnight Makeovers. All this is to say that everyone on the Juvie team is amazing and we can hardly wait for next year!!!

Much love from your captains,
Jen and Jade

Reached quarterfinals and ranked third overall!

Finshed season with 5 wins, 5 losses-just short of a playoff spot

Juvenile Basketball
Coach: Mr. Adrian Bertrand, Ms. Nicole Carrière
Alexa Barwick, Mona Bosnakyan, Karen Bosnakyan, Jade Gazaille, Lisa Heckler, Anne Hospod (Capt.), Zoë Lavender, Karen O'Keefe, Laine Roczniak, Alex Jacobs

Many of us have played on the school team for several years and this year was a true demonstration of our love for the game. Although we started off the season with a disappointing default loss, we definitely played with every ounce of effort and energy throughout the season. We were a committed team even though we realized that victory was often just beyond our reach. The baskets that would have made us victorious were simply not there. However, we still managed to have a fun year and the overall experience refined both our technique and talent as players. As our record shows, it's the journey that counts and not the destination. Good luck to next year's teams! Just remember to have fun on the court and score some points. That's all that matters.

Results

Outstanding achievements by the badminton teams:

Bantam: The whole team was undefeated throughout the entire season and won gold at the Team Championship Tournament to become the League Champions. In the Individual Championship Tournament, Carol Taing won silver. The doubles team formed by Ahman Hung and Sherman Hung won gold. The Second doubles team, formed by Keenan Goddard-Donivan and Kristina Gregory, won silver.

Midget: At the Individual Championship Tournament, the two doubles teams, respectively consisting of Angela Yung and Olivia Catchlove, Allison Yung and Natalie Smith confronted each other. The former team won gold while the latter won silver.

Juvenile: Karen O'Keefe was chosen to participate at the Individual Championship Tournament. Undefeated throughout the whole season, she finally met her Waterloo and won a silver medal.

Badminton

This year, the badminton teams smashed their way through the season. Armed with their racket and their will to win, they excelled in every game they played, always obtaining the highest overall score for each tournament they played. Soon, the overheads went further and the smashes became more powerful. With the wonderful coaching of Ms. Melanie Hogg, all the players improved dramatically through the season and loved it.

There's a new team to cheer for at The Study. This past year an enthusiastic group of students in Grades 5 through 11 developed and perfected their skating and hockey skills under guidance of coach, Ms. Maria Murphy, who also works in the Development Office.

"The girls practiced very hard and it was extremely gratifying to see how much they progressed," said Ms. Murphy, who has been playing hockey competitvely for the past 14 years. "The most important thing is that we all had fun," she added.

Special thanks to assistant coach and science teacher Mr. Peter Lochtie and to music teacher, Ms. Anastasia Polito, who also pitched in.

We are so happy and lucky to have had the privilege of leading the BEST House ever! We had a great time organizing activities for events such as House Day and Spirit Week this year. We have never seen a House as spirited and full of energy as ours. We hope you all had a great year because we did! Good luck to next year's leaders and always remember this . . . MU GAMMA ROCKS! WE LOVE YOU ALL MUGAMMIAN RANGERS!

KP Kappa Rho

In grade 4, I could never fathom how so many girls could keep up their spirit up within a house for so long. Now in grade 11, I doubt my constant spirit for KP will ever change. Being house-head gave me the opportunity to lead an amazing group of students from grades 4 to 11 in all sorts of events like Spirit Week and Sports Day. And I must admit I enjoyed every minute. The birth of The Force this year brought the four houses together and strengthened school spirit. Mme C. helped us put together every event and our lunch time meetings included everything from school discussions to the most recent gossip. But whatever we were doing, we were doing it with our houses in mind. Whether or not you come out on top, it's the lessons you learn on the way that count. Keep up the spirit Kappa Rho, give Kappa the Koala a good home and keep cheering! Good luck to next year's KP House Officials and have a blast!! This is one experience you'll never forget.

ΔB Delta Beta

After years of wanting to be Delta Beta house head I finally achieved my goal. The year was interesting, I learned the responsibilities that come along with the title. There were many long and tedious meetings in Ms. Carrière's tiny office sorting papers, eating take out, playing with gorillas, listening to music, laughing and having fun. It was hard. Remember, we may not achieve all the goals we set in life, but the journey there is the best part.

Head, Sub-Head and Sports Captain,
Randa, Clara and Jade

BΛ Beta Lambda

This school year was filled with fun house meetings and intramural activities that we organized. Dear Beta Lambdians, it has been too short to hold the pride and joy of leading our successful year. In one shot, our house was able to take three of the four House Prizes distributed during the Closing Awards Ceremony. Not only do we proclaim that we are the best, we prove it. Good luck to next year's house officials, and we hope that you will enjoy the dynamism of your house just as much as we did and that you will be able to bring it to new heights. With love and sadness (from your Head and Subhead who are leaving next year and who will miss you immensely),

Tuck Committee

Dear Diary,

Lately, my dreams have made no sense whatsoever. Tell me if you understand the meaning behind this one. I'm sitting in the lunchroom, eating a chocolate bar and all of a sudden four groups walk in. They are dressed respectively in blue, yellow, green and white. In my dream, I ask one of the leaders what they are doing, but they simply reply "I want to be a Mugammian Ranger." Puzzling, isn't it? Again and again this happens until my very loud alarm clock wakes me up. I have a rather large article to write for the school's newspaper tomorrow, and I hope I don't get stuck in another trance. I wish I could get to the bottom of this increasingly strange problem.

See ya later,

Jen

Yearbook

It is finally here! The wonderful, beautiful, marvelous yearbook which we have spent many, many, many hours finishing. How can we forget all our arguments and our debates about innovation and the conservation of tradition?! From the front-cover, passing through the grad write-ups to the committee's section to the end-sheets, we have put our effort and imagination in order to combine perfectionism with a dash of originality. We would like to thank everyone who contributed to this yearbook, especially Mme Charpentier for her dedication to the ads section, M Williams for his humorous presence, Ms. Rein for being our human spell check; and finally Ms. Liogas for her guidance and pressure. We also want to thank some of the Grade 10s who helped us greatly towards the end. Good luck to next year's yearbook editors and we hope that you will enjoy your job as much as we did.

Debate

This year's Debating Team was small but very persuasive. Debating was a Universal Period activity where students learned how to argue objectively and unemotionally. They became acquainted with the skills of research, analysis, and logic. Both parliamentary and academic debating were explored.

Head

How is it possible that a nerve-wracking, sleep-deprived, grueling year can be so rewarding? Student Council slaved countless hours preparing skits, creating presentations, organizing events, and even designing posters – activities which would normally distract people from the school – however, as the year progressed, we ended up becoming more and more attached to council. It even became a tradition to sing in the art room while finishing banners on Friday afternoons, and splurge on tuck while perfecting skits in the evening! There are several people without who I literally couldn't have survived the year. Always supportive, you have guided me throughout the year, Ms Swiderski. It was truly an honour to be able to work with you. To the rest of Student Council – conscientious, and dedicated - you are a dream come true! As for next year, the very best of luck to you, Nadia!
Signing off,
Chaya Litvack

Sub-Head

I never thought that the human body could function with such little sleep, although this year I learned that, in fact, it could. This year was extremely memorable because I was your Sub-Head Girl. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to organize Spirit Week among other activities throughout the year. It was incredible! Chaya, I definitely want to thank you for being such an amazing Head Girl. Although you were sometimes a walking zombie, I loved working with you. I'll never forget the last minute change of plans for assembly skits, or the incredible time we had in Toronto. Ms. Swiderski, you are a remarkable person who has really been the catalyst to our successful year. Adrienne, Elena, Leah, Lisa and Manna: I have to say that we were an awesome council and it was our support and encouragement for each other that kept us going. A huge thank you also goes out to everyone in the grade eleven class for their hard work and commitment. Alex, good luck next year! Just remember to have fun and, if you can, sleep a little. I'm sure you'll be a great Sub-Head. I was honoured to represent the school and will definitely treasure the memories forever.

Sports Captain

We have finally reached this bittersweet moment where goodbyes are said, memories are cherished and Prefects suddenly become members of the Study Old Girls Association. My year as Sports Captain was incredible and I cannot believe it is already over. This year Study Athletics have risen to a new level as we have achieved a great amount of success. Our wall of banners is suddenly five banners fuller because of all your hard work, determination, and commitment. Not only have you aimed high and reached excellence in terms of how many medals were won, but by participating in sports, you have succeeded in bravely rising to a challenge. You have demonstrated how important is teamwork, and persevered through hard times. Thank you to Mme Carrière and Mrs. Balfour for your constant hard work and support. Good luck to Mona next year as she leads you into what I am sure will be another great year in Study athletics. Thanks to all of you, the athletes, for such an amazing year and just remember to NEVER STOP PLAYING! "It's always too early to quit." (Norman Vincent Pearle)
Love, Lisa Heckler

Entertainment

Thank you, everyone, for this delightful opportunity to realize just how much work goes into school dances. Ms. Swiderski, I would like you to know how grateful I am for your guidance and support through all my failures and successes. Student Council, I have loved this experience! Grade 11, thank you for your enthusiastic participation in all of our endeavors. Good luck next year, Jenn.
Elena Pintor-Fernandez

Treasurer

Charity is a virtue the Study nurtures in all of us. As Treasurer, I had the privilege of gathering, managing and redistributing the results of our school's fund raising from students and staff from Kindergarten to Grade 11. The generosity and commitment of the Study community is revealed, not only in the actual dollars that were raised, but also in the way the funds were disbursed: some funds were reinvested in our school to help maintain our quality education, and the rest was invested outside our school into our greater community to help children, literacy programs and more. A great big thanks to all of you!

"The truly generous is the truly wise;
And he who loves not others, lives unblest."
Horace

A final thanks to The Student Council and most especially to Ms. Swiderski for her passionate commitment! Good luck next year, Nadège!

Leah Blank

Secretary

Being Secretary of the Student Council has been a wonderful and exciting experience for me. As many of you know, I am a shy person but I have become less shy and more confident throughout my years here. There are countless numbers of people who I have to thank for this. First of all, all my teachers who have taught me, and of course those who have not! I could not have succeeded and achieved so much without all your care and support. Also a simple thank you to the rest of the school and the people I see in the hall everyday. Then there is, of course, all my fellow Grade 11 classmates. This year has been a great year for us, including good and stressful times. Thank you Ms. Swiderski for guiding us through the year! Working with the six other Student Council members was one of the best things about this council. Remember the crazy meeting when we put "crystal" to everything? Chaya: "Once upon a crystal time . . ." I will take all of these wonderful memories with me as I leave this school. Good luck to the next year's Grade 11s and enjoy every moment that you can!
Hugs and Kisses, Manna Chan

Middle School Prefect

My experience as Middle School Prefect this year has been wonderful. Not only was I able to spend time working with the Middle School students, I was also part of the Student Council and was able to organize events for the entire school. Thank you Ms. Swiderski for always being by our side and helping us through all the organizing. Additionally, I would like to thank the rest of the Student Council members for a great year of unforgettable memories as a school leader. Chaya, Anne, Lisa, Manna, Leah, Elena, you taught me a great deal of things and I will never forget them. Good luck next year Laine and don't forget to have a great time!

Adrienne Wolfe

Grad Committee

Well, the word "budget" was never really part of my vocabulary, and I still don't think it is. But, somehow, everything worked out and grad was a complete success. Getting there, on the other hand, wasn't as easy but it made for an interesting year. Being able to plan THE most important night of our high school lives was an honour and if I had to, I would do all over again. Thanks to a great committee - I wouldn't have been able to do it without you. Thank you to Mme Anderson and Mme Jothy: we wouldn't have made it without your continuous support and all of your help.

Laura Heuff
Grad Head

Tuck Committee

Sour Skittles, sugar sticks, ketchup chips, Coke, Sprite, Mint Aero, you name it, we've got it! This year was the year when we had such a wide range of candies, chocolate and chips. I would like to say thank you to all the people who helped me sell Tuck at recess time, especially to Zoë and Manna. Also, a last thank you to Mrs. Chan who provided our assorted treats!
Good luck next year,
Nathalie Doumet

Message from the Headmistress

At the time of this writing, the school year is almost over. As a teacher, I wonder what measures of success each child has experienced during the past few months, not only in her academic experiences, but in her growth as a human being as well.

As someone concerned with the total development of the youngsters with whom we at the school work, I wonder, too, how successful we have been in preparing our graduating class to face the challenges they have yet to meet. Certainly, if their individual and collective actions over the past few years are a valid indication of their development, I sincerely believe that these young women are ready and anxious to embrace the wider experiences that await them.

I hope that the same sense of commitment that has prompted the development of a positive, happy atmosphere in our halls and classrooms, and encouraged various curricular and extra curricular activities for youngsters of all ages, will continue to develop and make itself felt, no matter what lifestyle these young people eventually choose. The spirit of cooperation between students and staff members that pervades our school was not easily obtained but becomes ever more firmly established through mutual trust and respect. The members of our graduating class have been much involved in this development and have accepted whole-heartedly the responsibilities that are a part of it. I have no doubt that whatever adventures they may pursue in the future they will approach life in the same mature, responsible manner.

" Let each of you be a fragment,
a spark of love.
Make it contagious, radioactive.
Organize an epidemic of good.
Let it contaminate the world!

They are strong, who believe and want to build.
Build the happiness of others.
Tomorrow will wear your face.

The greatest misfortune that can befall you is to be useful to none, live a useless life."

HALLOWEEN

Dear Diary,

Once again I was transported into the past. This time, I went back to Junior school. Junior school, what an amazing time to have fun and learn! I'm convinced there's some link between all three important levels of my life: Junior School, Middle School and Senior School. What is linking them? Could it be sports? Events? Education? No, I think it's something much deeper, Diary, and I'm convinced I will get to the bottom of it, no matter what. Tomorrow is Saturday so if I sit and think about it all day, I'll eventually come up with some plausible answer to all my questions. I'm going to sit at my desk and concentrate until I have another vision that gives me clues for this most impossible problem. Wish me luck and I will fill you in on every single detail as soon as possible.

Adios,

Kindergarten

Kindergarten is the best grade in all the world. We learn about stuff that will never disappear from our minds. Nous avons aimé apprendre à lire, à écrire et nous avons appris a compter avec le calendrier. We like making things, taking books home and growing a beanstalk taller than Mrs. Vikander standing on a chair! Nous avons appris les bonnes manières. We like gym, music, science, art and our Grade 5 reading partners. We love our classroom because there are so many things inside to do.

L'OISEAU BLEU

The lake lay blue below the hill.
Over it, as I looked, there flew
Across the waters, cold and still,
A bird whose wings were palest blue.

The sky above was blue at last,
The sky beneath me blue in blue.
A moment, where the bird has passed,
It caught his image as he flew.

Dear Diary,

Something's gone awry with my gift of seeing into the future. It seems to be working backwards now. Last night I dreamed that I was back in Middle School. How strange is that? Just when I thought I had everything figured out, my mind is telling me to go back to the past. Is there some missing clue that I need in order to properly use these powers? That must be it, otherwise why would my subconscious send me to "Le Petit Bonheur"? I must be trying to tell myself something, but what? Have you any ideas Diary, because I need some help figuring this out. I've thought about it long and hard. There must be some connection between high school and middle school, but what?

Talk to you soon!

Imaginez vous... C'est notre première journée en cinquième année et une fois assises sur nos chaises nous réalisons que celles-ci ont des balles de tennis aux pattes. Nous nous sommes alors demandées quelle sorte de professeures nous allions avoir, des extraterrestes? Et pourquoi cette idée farfelue? Puis, deux dames complètement normales (à première vue) entrent dans la classe. La première, Miss Anne et la deuxième, Madame Mélanie. Dès ce moment, nous savions que nous allions passer une année scolaire très amusante et surtout bien différente. Nos enseignantes nous ont fait participer à plusieurs projets plus extraordinaires les uns que les autres. Nous avons intégré le système féodal dans la classe, fait des concours de poésie, voyagé pendant deux jours dans l'espace, vu l'éclosion des œufs de poussin et fait un « Bookworm ». We have introduced a few new ways to work in the classroom this year. In English and French, we have a sheet that helps us keep track of our work, and it's called a Tracking Sheet or "feuille de route". We also have Portfolios where we put the semesters' work and, when we finish it, we bring them home to show our parents along with our report cards. Now that the school year is over, we can definitely say that our teachers were only slightly crazy and that the school year was REALLY (adverb) spectacular (juicy adjective)!

This year has gone by so fast from September to June and it has been the best: from being nervous, to meeting the Prime Minister of Canada, to having a great graduation at the end of this amazing year. Fortunately we had our two teachers Mme Gauthier and Ms. Agulnik help us on the way. We've always had our ups and downs with schoolwork and friends, but overall it was pretty fun. Nous avons beaucoup appris et nous nous sommes vraiment bien préparées pour l'année prochaine. Nous serons sûrement prêtes pour tous les changements qui nous attendent.

We love both our teachers. They helped us in math, French, Sciences Humaines and English. We made wonderful trips and we had a great time. Because of our teachers our lives changed. We became more organised and different. We are sure that they really prepared us for the Senior School.

Friday Nights

We are Family

Dear Diary,

Today was one of those typical days when nothing seems to go right. On top of that, I think that I might be losing my mind. First of all, history papers are due tomorrow and I haven't even started yet, and option sheets are due and I haven't made up my mind if I should take Economics or Biology. To top off my wonderful day, the microwave roasted my popcorn. About losing my mind, do you ever get the feeling of déjà vu? Well, all day I had the strangest feeling that I had already done what I was doing. Those dreams I've been having have something to do with the future! I think I can see things that are going to happen. Great, now on top of my already hectic senior school life, I have 'psychic' powers to master. Why do these things happen to me?

Later,

Grade seven was a great experience. We had to go through the transition of middle to senior school. It was scary at first, but we got used to it. We went to music camp (tip for next grade seven, bring earplugs). Congratulations to Music Camp Room 107 for keeping their record as the sloppiest campers in the entire grade. Ironically, they were also the winners ("Queens") of the scavenger hunt, so they got their rooms cleaned by the "neat freaks". We learned a lot at music camp. Ski day was um... interesting. Most of us had a lot of fun... eating beaver tails in a cloud of fog, slush, rain and wind. Exams were new. They weren't hard, you just had to be prepared. Spirit Week was entertaining. For career day, we went to the iSci Centre. It was fun and educational. Tips for next year's class, bring a map to the iSci Centre, do your homework, and remember, your one goal in life is to "always keep Ms. Liogas happy."[1]

Several teachers warned us last year that grade eight would be stressful year emotionally as well as academically. They said that this was the year where people changed and therefore friendships as well but we think that altogether this year has brought our grade closer together. From Superman Tee's in Boston to California Dreaming in Music to Inferno or whatever it is called now, Science Fair madness and HTML lunacy, the list could go on forever. Our point is that or grade has been through plenty this school year and we know that there is still lots to come.

Through friendships gained and success, we've learned that anything that one is proud of requires some hard work and determination. As a class, we did not get to where we are without some hard work on our part. Whether as a class, as a group or as individuals, we give our all in everything we do and the results are definitely evident. Anything we have accomplished requires some thinking, some looking and some determination in order to get where we are today.

There is only one word to describe the Grade ten class: "special". We are all as different as you can get, but that's what makes it interesting. If this year is a preview of what is yet to come, then we're in trouble... It has been hectic and a lot of work has been spent on different events. As the prefects, we have often been terribly scared that our class won't pull through, but they always do. We look forward to next year, although we are not really sure of what awaits us. We love you guys.

Here is a little something for our teachers: "Grade ten is like a box of chocolates... you never know what you're going to get."

Grad Night

SOGA Lunch

Dear Diary,

The strangest thing happened today. It was even more peculiar than those dreams I've been having. I was writing a story about the life of a Grade 11 girl for English class, and I found myself being zapped in and out of the story. I was simply sitting at my desk writing when suddenly I found myself in the midst of a large party. All the characters that I had created were there, dancing and dressed to the nines. I couldn't help but be speechless. Just as soon as I had been transported to my page, it seemed I was back at home in my room. Odd, isn't it? How can one be brought from reality into a fictional gradvation? It was quite fun to "witness" the party that I had imagined. The girls looked breathtakingly beautiful, and everything seemed so real... I'm flabbergasted!

Ciao!

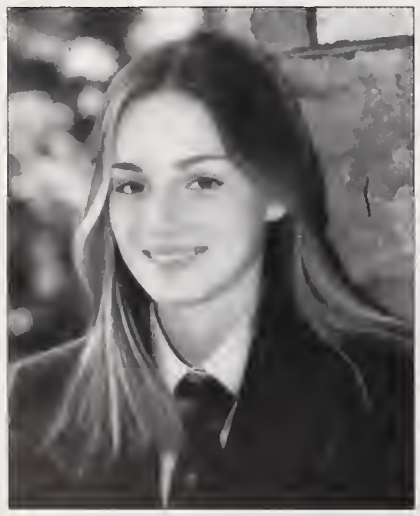
I've only spent three years at The Study, but it feels like a lifetime. I have made great friends here whom I know I will never forget. Our class was really wonderful and I had a lot of fun with all of you. I know that this may sound corny, but I want all of you to be happy in life. I would also like to tell all of my teachers that I appreciate them very much and I'd like to give them all a big hug. Thank you for making my short time at The Study a blast!

Taniela Avedian
Study Girl since 1997

It's hard to believe that I have finally finished school and must go to my next step in education. In kindergarten, I thought school would never end! Eleven years seemed like a century, and yet, it really is nothing. Firstly, I have the best parents in the world! Secondly, I have the best teachers! I'd like to thank them for all the wonderful things they have taught us, the incredible patience they have had with us (and also for the good cookies they have fed us). I would also like to thank my colleagues, because without them, this experience wouldn't have been so extraordinary.



Alexa Barwick
Study Girl since 1990

I've spent the last eleven years of my life in this school. These four walls have become my home away from home. I will never forget the time I have spent at this school. My peers and I have all laughed, cried and shared many memories together. Nevertheless, it's time to get out, to break free of the safe cocoon that The Study has become for all of us. Thanks to all the teachers, thanks to my family and my friends. My school years at The Study are over. It's not the end but a new beginning. Be free...

Leah Blank
Study Girl since 1996

Our years at The Study have shaped each one of us into who we are. In just a few days, we will leave, excited to stretch out to new horizons but sad to part from old friends, sad to leave all those teachers who lovingly prepared us, who inspired us to do and be better, to soar.

Friends depart, and memory takes them
To her caverns, pure and deep. (Thomas Haynes Bayly)

We will leave The Study, but thanks to the power of memory, our old friends, our teachers, our feelings, and our inspirations will stay with us forever and in turn, create our future.

Karen Bosnakyan
Study Girl since 1989

As the band Semisonic says, "Every new beginning comes from some other beginning's end." It seems like we've spent our entire lives at The Study, but now we're all going our separate ways. I wish my fellow graduates of 2001 success in all they may attempt in the future. To my teachers, you've taught me to embrace all challenges – thank you. I'd like to thank my family for always supporting me. And to my classmates — you've been the best friends I could have ever asked for. You all gave me the strength to continue and many unforgettable memories. For this, I'll be forever grateful.

Manna Chan
Study Girl since 1993

My years at this school have passed by so quickly! All of this seems to be a dream to me right now. This school has taught me a great deal of things, not only about succeeding in school but also about how things work in the outside world. I would like to thank all my teachers from Middle School onwards who have supported me and helped me when I needed it. You will always be remembered. I also want to thank my family and most especially, my mom. Last but not least I want to thank all my classmates who are always there for me and try to make me feel better when I am blue. I will miss you all so much! Hugs and Kisses, Manna

"If at first you don't succeed, destroy all evidence that you ever tried" (Steven Wright) This is the fifth time I have rewritten my grad write up. All I can say now is that I don't know how to fill the space we petitioned for. The past three years have been filled with too many memories to share. Everyone who helped me through my final years of high school deserve to be thanked: Mom, Dad, Jess, Brett, my teachers and, of course, the class of '01. Since I can't come up with any wise words of my own to share, "Don't count the days, make the days count." Remember to Smile (those were mine).

Nathalie Doumet
Study Girl since 1992

I was condemned to serve nine years at The Study. I have completed my sentence, and now I am free at last. "In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life. It goes on."(Robert Frost) Thank you Mom, Dad, George and Mickey for helping me through the rough times. Thank you Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Ewing and Ms. Reingewirtz for (in the words of A. Trudel), "Making me go to bed a little less stupid than when I woke up." After nine long years, it feels like I can handle anything, no matter what, but don't quote me. In the end, I think Mark Twain said it best, "Don't let school get in the way of your education."

Julia Gregory
Study Girl since 1996

I will remember you for your unique dreams. Not all of you are going to be famous but you're all going to be important, in fact you already are. You and your hopes and your dreams are what have made you such an important part of me. Remember our years. Remember your wishes, I will. Remember me. "Life is not measured by the breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away." (Unknown)

"Wherever they go, and whatever happens to them on the way, in that enchanted place on the top of the Forest a little boy and his Bear will always be playing." (A. A. Milne) No matter where our lives take us, I know that our memories will always bind us together. Thank you to my friends for making the ride worthwhile, to Ange and Doudze for being my companions and my role models, and to Mummy and Daddy for leading me through life. Finally, thank you to my teachers who have shown me that the sky is the limit. I love you all and just remember, "Every new beginning comes from some others beginning's end." (Semisonic)

Our time has come, and now we must say goodbye. Graduating is probably the only thing in life that I have really looked forward to, and now that our graduation is only days away I realize how much I don't want to leave. Over the past years we have lived in our little house on the hill, in our own little bubble, but now it is time for us to go. Thanks to Mom, Dad and Michael for always supporting me, and to all of the teachers I have had over the past five years. You have taught me so much and I will never forget you.

"The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."(E. Roosevelt) My five-year journey of joy, discovery, unparalleled friendships and unbelievable adventures has come to an end. I will be forever grateful to the fabulous teachers who have shaped my life, and to my extraordinary Mom, my brother Philip, and the loving memory of my Dad, all of whom have allowed me to succeed. To the graduates of 2001, I wish you all the happiness in the world. Remember to treasure life, to dream and take risks. I am honoured to graduate amongst you and I will miss you all.

I love you people! Funny how four words can take up so little space on this page, but fill up so much space in my heart. I realize that's extremely corny! I'm going to miss The Study and all of you. I can't believe I just said that! Dad, Solange, Adrien and Dee: I adore all of you so much, and the cat too. Thank you for being the best family anyone could ever want. Chris, you are the best and I love you. See you later, people!

"Another spin around the sun, this speck of light in the universe/ the gift of love, there for everyone." (Edwin) The past nine years have been very, very long. Thank you to all my friends. It was a pleasure learning with you. Your friendship will always be remembered, but I am sorry that I didn't get to know you better. "Oh, thank you, thank you ever so much. I'm so happy. Thank you..."(Julia Robert's acceptance speech, 73rd Oscars) To my teachers who without knowing it, shaped and inspired me in so many ways. Finally to Mom, Dad, Angus and family thank you, thank you so much for your support and love. Love Clara Best of luck!

"I get by with a little help from my friends."(The Beatles)
It has been an amazing three years. Thanks to my family who made my life what I want it to be. Thanks to my friends for teaching me all I ever needed to know. "Never let school interfere with your education." (Mark Twain) Thanks for great memories and the wild times. It's time to go.

It was a dark and stormy night the day I sat down to write this, and after a magnificent opening line, I've run out of things to say. "'There must be someway out of here,' said the joker to the thief." (Bob Dylan), and I think I've finally found the way out! Thanks to all those who helped me; you know who you are, and I hope my appreciation is conveyed daily, and not just when I need to summarize five years in one hundred words, a difficult task at the best of times. Thank you to everyone.

Chaya Litvack
Study Girl since 1995

We've finally completed the dreaded biology packages, pages of daunting mathematical problems, and one too many history papers! Schooling at The Study, however, cannot be summed up with descriptions of assignments. Not only have I learned how to embrace learning, but also how to hold my head high, take pride in my accomplishments, and treasure friendship. Thanks to my teachers for their dedication, insight, and inspiration, and to my friends for sharing every important moment with me throughout the years. The past six years have been unforgettable! Miss you all,

Chaya

Thanks Mom, Dad, and my teachers for all your help and support throughout these years. I have so many memories to share with my friends. I will never forget The Study and how it has shaped the person I am now. I really believe "It's our time to fly".

Well, we have finally made it to the end. We have gone through microwave possession, petitioning, 'Friday movies', and even locker room wars. I will never forget all of the great times we had together. EDR, you made the final years even more special. I would like to thank all of the teachers who in some way or another helped me through the years. Most of all I thank my family: I love you.
I will miss you all.

I want to thank the Study
For all its teachers
Smart, but nutty
For all its experiences
In arts, languages and sciences
For all my friends,
Our paths will suffer many bends;
But though they may diverge
Our minds and hearts will always converge.

Jessica Potenza

Hey angels, you all made my 11/12 years at this school the most memorable they could possibly be. From the kindergarten year when all I did was write letters to the teacher down the hall, to the grade eleven year when I'd run away from the teachers down the hall: without you 29 ragazzas I never would have come back to finish my senior year. I don't think a class could get much better than ours. Even as friends grew apart, we still stayed together. Mom, Dad, Del, Traci, Eric and all the cousins, I love you all. To my boys Carl, Nick, and Chaz, and my specials Alexa J. and B., Alex, Stephy and my lifers: XOXO. Laura, the best friend anyone can have, I love you so much.

Cynthia Qian

Although I have only been at The Study for two years, I feel completely at home, in part because this was the longest period of time I spent in one high school. My stay here will always remain in my memory as a time of happiness. This was made possible by my parents' support and encouragement, the help of my wonderful teachers, the stamina of the student body and the presence of my fantastic fellow classmates. All of them helped me through "The Study Experience". Today, for the first time, I can say that I have become truly attached to a school. I am proud to be what I am: a Study Girl.

Elizabeth Richards-Dumas

I dedicate this to mom to whom I owe everything for her never-ending support, and to Anne, Lisa, Nat, Courtney and Karen, as well as to Maude and Sarah, for without the best two sisters in the world, life would be boring. This is not dedicated to YM Magazines, daily crushes, make-up and giggles, but to Vogue magazine, human rights, politics, love, whole-hearted laughs and the teenage neighbourhood we did have. As for my teachers, you taught us what took you a lifetime to learn; thanks to you I could defy gravity. Your words are engraved in our minds forever. Human nature has never inspired me so much as when I look into all your eyes. One word: Dream!

Isabel Small

Hey people, what's up? It has been a wicked year and there are a few people I'd like to thank. First up, mom, dad, my two brothers and three sisters, I love you lots. To Mini-Mai: thanks for all you and your parents have done. Lin, you know I have a wicked smile, and you know the rest! To all the other people I haven't mentioned, spread your wings and be free. Annie :Watch out! I'll be checking up on you! And finally thanks to PD, EB, CK, NW, and all the animals!

Jessica Stein

My life here has been like a puzzle with instructions. It is your choice as to whether you use them, your choice as to whether you ever look at the finished project, or ever finish it at all. All this time I've been conversing with the passersby, watching words float away and breaking bridges and boundaries. I've been watching you speak and listening to you as you listen. I have been adding misfit murmurs and watching them tickle and punch. Everyone here understands their picture. Now, staring at mine, at the finished product, at the product I finished, the picture doesn't match the cover of the box, but it's still kind of beautiful.

It's ironic that we spend our lives trying to get to know the person we know best - ourselves. The graduating class is heading in different directions in search of new experiences that will bring them further along the quest to "know oneself". To all my classmates and dedicated teachers, thank you for all of the wonderful memories - they will never be forgotten. Don't let yourselves get jaded because the little everyday moments that you choose to enjoy are the ones that will get you through the tough times. "Ask yourself if what you are doing today is getting you closer to where you want to be tomorrow." (Anonymous)

We've finally made it but it's going to be hard to imagine life without our daily routine and seeing all your faces. We've shared so much laughter and tears along the way. Mom & Dad: Thanks so much for all your love and support. Lil: you'll always be my baby sis! My dear teachers: Thank you for all your patience and effort, (especially concerning my "forgetfulness"). Izzy & Mai, my two best friends, we'll be together forever! We've shared so many crazy times together; let's never forget the good times. I'll miss you very much! Thanks to everyone here at our second home. In my heart, I'll always remain a Study girl.

Adrienne Wolfe

As I look back on the past nine years, I see how far I have come and how worthwhile the journey has been. Grade eleven, you're an amazing class. Thank you for all those moments, the fights, the locker room maps, and the "isketch game". I want to say thank you to my teachers for your dedication, your hard work, and for always pushing me to do my best. Just when you think you have it all figured out, it all comes crashing down. Thank you for catching me, for leading me in the right direction when I couldn't see, and for standing by me no matter what. It is because of you that I have been able to find myself. Smile, and remember to open up those wings to the wind!

The Lifers

The time we've spent in our little house at the top of hill is surely something we will never forget. Our entrance into the school was marked in techni-color fashion, when we left the reading room windows with our paint adorned hand-prints. Together, we realized that the numerical system extends, in fact, well beyond 20. And finally, during our high-school years, we pulled each other through the sleepless nights, endless exams and the trials and tribulations which guys added to our class dynamic. But the memorable bus rides, locker-room games and grad week-end are only some of the memories which we will take with us. The four of us may be labelled as the lifers, but we were the only ones who witnessed the transformation of our kindergarten class into the graduating class of 2001. And what a transformation it was. Each student brought another wonderful addition to our class, ranging from dancing skills, singing skills or endless enthusiasm. Each and everyone of you made this trip worth the while. We want to wish you all the greatest success in the future, and no matter where you go, remember we may have found the way out, but the door will always be open.

Dear Diary,

Good news! I've solved the puzzle! I discovered what was linking all those bizarre dreams. Are you ready for the answer? It was the teachers. How obvious was that answer? I searched and searched and all the time the answer was staring me right in the face. My teachers helped me recognize my gifts; but they also helped me lose it. For about a week, I haven't had any strange dreams or trances. It seems as though once I discovered the important link, my gift disappeared. Well, I can't say that I'm terribly upset, because I think the lesson that I've learned is more important than any psychic power. I guess I overlooked everything my teachers did for me. Without them, I probably wouldn't have made it past kindergarten. I'm glad this whole ordeal is over and I can go back to being a regular Study Girl. Wait, why am I floating in the middle of my room? Oh no, here we go again....
